

Dance Set

A benefit square dance for the Heart Fund will be held at the Torrance Civic Auditorium on February 18, from 8 to 11 p.m.

As an extra treat, live music will be furnished to accompany the patter of Gerry Reeser.

Free refreshments will be served to those attending. The host spot for this affair will be shared by the Corn Stompers, a local square dance club, and the Tuesday evening adult square dance class. Both groups are sponsored by the Torrance Recreation Department.

GROUNDBREAKING... Participating in groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Longren plant were Hampden Wentworth, president of Longren, and Mayor Albert Isen, among other dignitaries.

Longren Aircraft Holds Groundbreaking Rites

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held Wednesday, January 18, by Longren Aircraft company for their second manufacturing plant in the City of Torrance.

In attendance to congratulate Hampden Wentworth, president of Longren Aircraft

Company were Captain W. T. Groner of NOTS, Commander Bixby of BOURD, Mayor and Mrs. Al Isen and other leading city officials, including Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hall (city attorney); George Stevens, city manager; Beverly Smith, president, Planning Commission; Jack White, president, Airport Commission; John Russell, superintendent of building; George Powell, secretary, Planning Commission; Councilmen Mervin Schwab, Nick Draie, and Willys Blount; John Ebbinghouse, president-elect Chamber of Commerce; and Byron Linville, Security First National Bank of Los Angeles.

Plans Reviewed
Wentworth reviewed the plans and architectural sketches for the initial 56,000 sq. ft. of his ultra modern aircraft plant and outlined Longren's long-range plans for ultimate expansion up to 125,000 sq. ft. at the new site. The new plant will be located at 24751 Crenshaw boulevard, directly adjacent to the Torrance airport.

The Longren plant at 2576 Carson street has been located there since 1939, occupying 41,000 sq. ft. of manufacturing space and 6,000 sq. ft. of office area. The new plant, scheduled for completion in early April, will increase Longren's total floor area to 103,000 sq. ft.

The new plant is designed to accommodate large assemblies such as vertical stabilizers, empennages and large wing sections of the latest aircraft. Such features as power doors, some as large as 40 feet wide and 16 feet high, are included in the plans to make possible movement of these large assemblies.

Toastmasters Name Two For Speak-off

Two of the four finalists who will compete in the Torrance Toastmasters club Speak-Off in March are Scotty Albright of the National Supply Co. and G. S. Evans of the Oscar Maples Ford company.

Torrance Toastmasters club members feel that competition insures a better show and produces a better show-man. They also feel that competition develops better speakers.

Every six months the Toastmasters clubs throughout the country hold their semi-annual speech contests. These contests are known to them as Speak-Offs.

The Torrance Club is busily engaged in the semi-finals so as to determine who will be the four finalists at the Speak-Off in March.

In the semi-finals now being held, four speakers meet at each meeting with a seven-minute speech on any subject of their choosing.

ANTELOPE

There are 130 to 200 species of antelope, ranging in size.

The factory area is steel reinforced so that overhead conveyors and hoists may be utilized to take advantage of the latest assembly techniques.

Wentworth stated that the new facility is urgently needed. Longren has the largest backlog of its history carrying it into 1958. Sales volume has shown a continuous increase with the first three months of the fiscal year totaling $1,049,000.
